Yosemite travel is commencing with indications of a lively season Then visitors left via Mariposa to day

Messrs Hayward and Jones on being interviewed say they have no answer to make through the press to the charges relative to the burning of the Yellow Jacket. It is inferred that they will seek a more effective mode of redress

Alleged disclosures by J S. Hubbell, under ground foreman of Yellow Jacket mine, since the great fire there but now guard at Carson State Prison said to have been made to William Sharon were published in substance as follows

That G F Kellogg working in the interest of J H Jones revealed to him the fact that he was to fire the mine and that he saw Kellogg in the mine just as the fire broke out The latter told him it was all right that the men were all above out of danger and begged him for God s sake not to go back on him That he saw several car loads of powder sent down with which to blow up the mine Hubbell on the other hand says he came here at the request of J O Donnell who told him that Sharon would give $50 000 or $100 000 to get a point on Jones and run him after the latter with Sharon had run home out of the management of the Savage and other mines that desiring to lead them on he pretended to make some revelations and a statement was drawn up by Col Hoge for him to sign in the presence of Capt Lees of the Detectives, but he refused to sign it, and informed Jones of the plot against him Sharon insists that he accused in the matter only in the interest of justice and not to beat Jones for the U S Senate Lees states that he acted only as a detective having no other interest, and that Jones denounces the whole affair as an infamous conspiracy to ruin him ' The pretended revelations are looked upon with much suspicion by the public, and are not generally credited

Stocks more active this afternoon and in some cases stronger Yellow Jacket closed higher in the Board, but in the skirmishing after the session of the Board sold down to 17½ Total sales to day, 16,500 shares

The alleged disclosures of facts connected with the burning of the Yellow Jacket mine two years since have been canvassed by everybody to-day, and are generally treated as a fabrication intended to increase the stock panic and cripple Hayward and Jones in their stock operations and ruin Jones' chances for United States Senator

Public sympathy appears to be decidedly in favor of Jones and against those who put the story in circulation The impression that this is a ' bear ' dodge financially as well as politically is so strong that there are indications of its creating a reaction and suddenly stopping the panic in the stock market Steps have already been taken to legally ventilate the affair and prosecute the parties implicated in the transaction, both criminally and civilly and before the matter is ended one party or the other will be thoroughly dead in public opinion at least

The police this evening arrested five more persons for cruelty to animals by patronizing the Chicken Pit Among the parties arrested are three of the leading stock brokers

It is reported this morning that rich pay dirt has been found at the foot of Adobe Hill, near Fort street, in this city Some men, in digging a cellar struck a body of gravel and sand rock, of which six pans yielded thirty cents of fine gold For several years gold has been found within 100 yards of this locality

NEVADA

RENO, May 8.—Last night an attempt was made to rob and murder an old gentleman named Swift by a man calling himself Drinkwater Swift was on his way from Summit, and was walking to Verdi On the way Drinkwater overtook him, and they traveled until dark, when Swift sat down to rest While sitting down Drinkwater came up behind him and hit him with a billy or slung shot, and stunned but not seriously hurt him The blow broke the billy from the man's hand, and the old man undertook to run Drinkwater clenched him, and they rolled down the hill and into a creek. While in the creek Swift succeeded in getting out his pocket knife, and stabbed him in the neck several times and left him for dead The old gentleman then found his way to the house of a man named Downs, where he gave the alarm Downs went to Reno and informed the Sheriff, who went with assistance and found Drinkwater at Downs' house where he had made his way for aid. The Sheriff brought him to Reno and lodged him in jail where the doctors are sewing up ugly holes in his neck It is thought he cannot recover Swift is one of the oldest and most respected citizens of Washoe county

'Personalities in Politics '

[From the Boston Advertiser]

The New York Evening Post takes notice of the threatened virulence of party spirit in the coming Presidential canvass The warning is well timed and appropriate The absence of great issues, absorbing life and soul, like those which prevailed during the war, leaves plenty of room for personal wrangling, of which there are many to take advantage

The canvassing for the Presidency began in Washington several months ago in a very unpromising manner Personal disappointments, which had been accumulating from the beginning of the administration, private wrongs, the results of accident or consciously and deliberately inflicted, gave to the opposition a peculiarly vindictive character, which it bears to this day When the time was favorable and apparently concerted assault came from all quarters on the personal and official integrity of the chief representatives of the government The President was the most conspicuous object and received the brunt of the assault There was hardly a charge in the long list to which men in power are exposed that was not launched against him He was charged with leading a Ku Klux raid against the people of Hayti He was charged with neglecting to enforce the laws against the Ku Klux at the South at the very moment when those of its members who were not under arrest were flying to the woods He was charged with trading in the patronage at his disposal as if it were his private property and for the purpose of serving his private greed

Later the assault in that quarter abated, it was conceded that the President might be patriotic and upright but it was the men whom he called around him who were all wrong Infamous charges were trumped up against them and for a month the country was flooded with tales of scandal which, if they had been true, would have been an unspeakable national disgrace The Secretary of War, the Secretary of the Navy the Secretary of the Interior the chief of the bureau of ordnance, and others, heads of bureaus and departments almost without number, were pursued with the same vindictive animosity, and accused of administering their trusts in persistent violation of law for the sake of enriching themselves and their friends

Failing to sustain the assault at any of these points confounded by the evidence upon every essential item in their charges, the slanderers pitched upon sundry confidential clerks and holders of petty offices, with the purpose of fastening some discredit upon the Government, if only as a reflection of their misconduct. With examples like these of a determination to break down the administration by destroying its hold upon the respect of the country, it is not to be wondered that retorts should sometimes be made in kind Let us call things by their right names, and let every man false to his trusts take the consequences of his own acts But a false charge, which defames not only the officer assailed but the Government which he serves is infamous, and the consequences should be visited upon the defamer

The ordinary political vituperation is much less used now than formerly, and is much less effective Intelligent people have begun to rate it at its proper value It is mere scolding it excites only contempt If it has a basis of reason it serves to weaken the argument and in either case it is its own best executioner

Father Hyacinthe at Rome

The stupendous advance of human freedom is seen in the fact that Father Hyacinthe can not only enter Rome in perfect safety, but that he can open a series of public conferences in regard to the 'old Catholic ' movement of which he is a leading exponent Had Luther shown himself in the Eternal City after posting his ninety five propositions but short work would have been made of him It is probable that only his early death saved him from the captivity of his illustrious friend the Elector of Saxony But three centuries have rolled away since then centuries of wondrous progress and development The world has moved out of its old ecclesiastical bondage

The eloquent tongue and the beautiful spirit of Father Hyacinthe can not fail to electrify the heart of the Catholic church from Rome in spite of the vindictive opposition of the hierarchy In opening his commission to the Romans he enumerates five wounds of the true Church, corresponding to the wounds of Christ The most serious of all is the obscuration of God's word He is equally severe upon the worship of the Madonna, of the saints, and of relics The superstitions of the ultramontanes were severely handled and the abuses of the Court of Rome ventilated One of the most encouraging points in this movement is the full accord of Father Hyacinthe and all the Protestant pastors No worthier apostle to the Romans could have been selected. Immense crowds attend his ministrations

The law just enacted by Congress to define the rights of part owners of vessels provides that any person or persons of a body corporate having more than one half ownership in a vessel shall have the same power to remove a captain who is also a part owner of such vessel as a majority of owners now have to remove a captain not a part owner But this act is not to apply where there is a valid written agreement subsisting, by virtue of which such captain would be entitled to possession, nor in any case where a captain has possession as part owner, obtained before the passage of the act

THURSDAY MORNING MAY [illegible]

Opinions on the Presidential Canvass

A few days before the Cincinnati Convention the national organ of the Democratic party at Washington [illegible] strong [illegible] published [illegible] that any [illegible] be made at Cincinnati which [illegible] factory to Democrats [illegible] in this [illegible] accepted as [illegible] accomplished [illegible] they have yet [illegible] that the National Democratic [illegible] meet as it has always [illegible] it will present candidates regularly [illegible] modes only could a full vote [illegible] and the discipline preserved which is just as essential in political as in military organizations. With that Convention will rest the responsibility of determining whether candidates within the organization shall be nominated, or others can be accepted. If the idea is entertained that any nominations made at Cincinnati will be adopted by the National Democracy, it cannot be dismissed too soon, for it is doomed to certain and bitter disappointment.

This is the common sense view of the case. It has been supported since the Cincinnati nominations were made by such moderate and conservative Democratic journals as the Boston Post and New York Journal of Commerce. It is as evident as anything can be that a straight Democratic ticket will be nominated. Already Mr Greeley says that in that event he will withdraw. But it is observable that the most influential supporters of the Cincinnati nominations insist that the Democratic party must name no candidates. Here is the Chicago Tribune plainly telling Democrats that they must put no ticket in the field, but hold themselves in readiness to support the Cincinnati nominees. The Tribune doesn't want a formal coalition. It simply wants Democrats to keep quiet till election day and then come forward and give the Cincinnati ticket their votes. "Coalitions," it says, "are always unsuccessful in politics. Trumbull, Greeley, Sumner, Gratz Brown, Fenton, Palmer, anybody would be damned in popular estimation if he should come before the country as the product of coalition." Hence the Chicago Tribune doesn't even want the Democrats to declare in their Convention for the Cincinnati ticket. It simply wants that party to support the Cincinnati ticket without making any noise about it.

One of the journals relied on as a chief support of the so-called Liberal movement is the Cincinnati Commercial. But that paper has declared since the Convention was held that in case the Democrats nominate a ticket it will support the strongest of the Republican tickets, that is, the ticket which will be put in nomination at Philadelphia. The New York Evening Post, the great free trade paper of the United States, favored the Liberal movement and was expected to support the Cincinnati nominations. But it is not pleased with the jugglery and studied insincerity of the platform, nor can it support Mr Greeley. It says he "lacks the courage, firmness and consistency required in a Chief Magistrate," the truth of which will be obvious enough to every one who remembers Mr Greeley's liability to make sudden "departures," and his fondness for hobbies and cranky notions.

The outlook of the whole thing is this. The Democrats will nominate a ticket of their own, and most of the strength of the Cincinnati protesters will come over to the Philadelphia nominees. Mr Greeley will receive a very limited support, and it will be of little consequence whether he withdraws or not.

The Outlook in the State

News from the State canvass continues highly encouraging. At every point Mr Wilson is adding to his strength. Mr Burnett is overmatched and is not making so strong a canvass as was expected of him. We expect to make gains outside of Multnomah over our vote in the last election, and with a corresponding gain in this county we should elect the Congressman.

The county and legislative ticket are now generally in the field. In parts of the State there is substantial harmony among Republicans. A vigorous and concerted effort will recover the State. We entreat our friends to be astir!

The official returns of immigration for the first three months of the present year show the rapid increase of the German element over all others. From the 1st of January to the 31st of March, 12,497 persons arrived here from the German States—against 3,948 from Ireland, 7,554 from England, and 1 368 from France. During the war of 1870–71 the immigration from Germany fell off largely but it has now increased and in a larger ratio than that of any other country. There is a very noticeable increase in the number of skilled laborers who are coming in. The majority of the immigrants, of all classes, are between the ages of fifteen and forty, and there is a marked disproportion between the numbers of the males and females—the total of the former being 19,316, and of the latter 8,884.

From the Herald we learn that "it is important to get men in the Legislature who will not do the bidding of these great railroad monopolies." Suppose, then, we elect a Republican Legislature. Heretofore for two sessions our Legislature has in all things "done the bidding of these monopolies." The Democratic bodies have given the railroads all the powers which they now possess, and which our neighbor so bitterly complains of. If we need a change let us get it by electing a Republican Legislature.

And now the Herald is on the verge of a new dilemma. Suppose, it says, that the Philadelphia Convention should throw Grant overboard, and Greeley could be induced to withdraw, wouldn't the Democratic party be out of luck? In that event it would be compelled to nominate a candidate of its own, and Democrats would be deprived of the privilege of voting for Greeley. We sympathize.

It begins to be evident that our Government will adhere to its demands in the matter of the Alabama claims, and throw on Great Britain the responsibility of withdrawing from the treaty in case she is unwilling to accede to them. It has been frequently given out lately that our Government had receded from its position, but this is clearly a mistake.

The Pittsburg Gazette boasts of a patron who has just forwarded his sixty third annual subscription. His name is Van Voorhis and he built the first coal boat ever floated on the Monongahela river.

The Norfolk (Va.) Journal announces to the scientific world that the welding of copper, which has occupied the skill and the science of the world for centuries without success, has been discovered by Mr George Davis of that city.

Correspondence

To the Editor of the Oregonian

In reference to an article which appeared in yesterday's Herald, signed "A German Citizen," you will do a favor not only to one but to many German citizens if you give space in your paper to the following.

The author of said article refers to the insignificance and contempt in which the Deutsche Zeitung was held by a majority of the German citizens of this city and State before its recent change.

But what was the reason that such was the case? Not because it was purely Democratic nor purely Republican, but that it is published and printed and was edited in part by a gentleman who could not be expected under the circumstances to devote his whole time to the discussion of the leading political questions at issue in which every German takes an interest more or less.

That was the main reason why the Deutsche Zeitung had not such a circulation as it might have had and as could have been expected had it been otherwise.

But as the writer of the article in the Herald truly remarked the Germans as a class are characterized by their thorough honesty, straightforwardness, candor and contempt for every kind of double dealing and hypocrisy. Proof of which is that so many Germans not only in this State but all over the United States, but especially in the State of New York, left the Democratic ranks and joined the Republican party. And why? Their honesty and their general character would not allow of such misuses and official corruptions as were practiced, and which they thought could not be possible until their eyes were opened about a year ago.

As far as the influence of the Deutsche Zeitung amongst its readers is concerned we are sure and we know that it is read now since it has taken such a decided stand on the Republican side with interest by the majority of the German citizens of this city and State. And we know also that just that insignificance to which the German Citizen refers and which did keep a good many from patronizing the paper, was caused only by a want which is ably supplied by the present editor. The proof of this is the great increase of its subscribers, and the interest with which it is looked for at the end of each week.

SEVERAL GERMAN CITIZENS

The Case of Rev Jason Lee Again

SALEM, May 6 1872

To the Editor of The Oregonian

SIR: Having had occasion to revisit the Lee Mission Cemetery the other day I forward for the information of our friend W. H. G., of Astoria, and all others, the inscriptions verbatim on the head stones of the first Mrs Lee and her infant son. This inscription was dictated by Rev Jason Lee in person, which reads thus: "Beneath this sod the first broken in Oregon for the reception of white mother and child, lie the remains of Ann Maria Pitman wife of Rev Jason Lee and her infant son. She sailed from New York July, 1836, landed in Oregon June 1837, was married July 16th, and died June 26 1838 aged 35 years, in the full enjoyment of that love which called her to leave all for Christ and heathen souls. So we have left all and followed Thee, what shall we have therefore? Math 19, 27."

So you see I was not mistaken in the first place in regard to the birth of the son of Rev Jason Lee. This child was about ten days old when both it and its mother died on the 26th June, 1838. Neither was I mistaken in regard to the child of Dr Elijah White drowned in the Columbia river. This child was a son, and his name was Jason Lee.

It is due in behalf of Mr Cyrus Walker who claimed to be the first white male born in Oregon, that he is the first male born now living, and I heartily congratulate him in his position as a stern temperance man and temperance lecturer, and my earnest prayer is that he may long live to sow the seeds of temperance all over our glorious Oregon, and may the seed sown by him, the first now living son of Oregon, produce a thousand fold.

James Bates, claimer of being the first settler, seems to be rejected by W. H. G. of Astoria on account of his having been a sailor, and allow me to say that Mr Bates was a blacksmith and erected the first blacksmith shop in the Wallamet valley. He ought to take the palm as first settler.

Respectfully, J. L. PARRISH

A curious trophy has been presented to the Smithsonian Institute by Raymond de Feiger, of Ecuador, through E. R. Wing, our Minister at Quito. It is a battle trophy of a race of natives living near the head waters of the Amazon river and is the head of a captive condensed by some unknown process to a size not more than three inches in diameter, the original proportions of the features being preserved.

Watertown, Wisconsin, is a smart city. It owes three quarters of a million dollars for which judgments have been obtained. The only way of collecting the money is by an order of Court directing the City Council to levy a tax to pay the debt. The Council objects to paying and plays it sharp to avoid it. When the United States Marshal enters their Council room a majority of the members tender their resignations and thus destroy a quorum. If any city business requires the action of the Council a special election supplies the vacancies and puts the Council in shape again. After the business is done the resignations are again filed and the Council ceases to be a legal body.

The Salem Statesman says: "An unusual number of Indians were upon the street yesterday. They were [illegible] that Jasper W. Johnson was not nominated for the Presidency."

A new paper has been started at Boise City by A. J. Boyakin. It is called the Idaho Standard and is intensely Democratic, as its proprietor, familiarly known as "Jud," has long and perversely been.

Henshaw of Polk county, the man who tried to commit suicide by freezing himself, will have a portion of his feet amputated to save him from dying in a way that he doesn't admire as much as he does the refrigerating process.

The Statesman learns by private letters from Yaquina Bay that business is active there this spring. There is a ready a continuous throng of pleasure seekers and many who go for the purpose of spying out purchasable lands and opportunities for business.

The burglars continue to disturb the peace and quiet of the city of Salem. The Statesman of yesterday reports three cases of housebreaking attempts on Monday night. Considerable excitement exists in regard to the matter and the two watchmen of the place seem unable to nip any of the chaps who are giving so much trouble. In the meantime public sentiment cries out for a vagrant law or more police.

Not long ago a strange circumstance occurred at the Ocean House on the Yaquina. The wife of the proprietor, L. J. Baldwin, had gone out for a walk in the afternoon leaving her husband asleep upon a lounge in the bar room. During her absence some one entered the family sleeping room and took from a bureau drawer two or three hundred dollars in coin. Several days afterward the money was mysteriously returned.

A correspondent at St. Helens, under date of the 7th inst., says: "Geo. R. Helm inflicted his piece on the people of St. Helens last night. It was a labored attempt to justify the Lock and Dam Swindle and the Swamp Land steal, varied by insane denunciations of Ben Holladay. The honest Democrats of Oregon cannot be made to believe that railroads are a drawback to the prosperity of the State or that stealing the school funds is an honorable transaction, and George will do more to insure the success of the Republican party by repeating his St. Helens speech over the State than all the Republican speakers combined."

THE TERRITORIES

Abernethy's sawmills at Oak Point, burned down in January last, are rebuilt, and will be ready for operation in the course of a month.

Hallett has a portable steam sawmill at work near McElroy's, about three or four miles from the Half way House. He has also another mill on the dock at Olympia ready to be hauled out.

The Osmyn, having discharged her cargo of ice and merchandise at Olympia, and taken on board 200 000 hoop poles, was towed down to Seattle, where she will take on board several tons of coal before sailing for San Francisco.

The following business has been transacted at the Olympia land office during the month of April: Number of acres cash entries 32 013; homestead entries, 1 810½; final proofs 640; donations, 600; scrip locations 160; military warrants 320; declaratory statements 4 157. Total, 40 090½ acres.

An Olympia paper says Gen. Sprague and Gov. Goodwin announce, through Marshal Blinn, that they have complied with the further provision of the donors to the Northern Pacific Railroad Co., by locating a line of railroad from the main line to deep water on Budd's Inlet. This must be regarded as a permanent location, but on which side of the bay the road is to run is still an open question.

Col. W. W. DeLacy, formerly of the land surveys of W. T., Adjutant and Captain of the Indian wars of Oregon and Washington Territory and most favorably known to many old settlers of the Territory as engineer, surveyor, soldier and gentleman, has been appointed chief of a party, ordered by the engineer in chief of the Northern Pacific Railroad to survey the Salmon route from Montana westerly.

POLITICAL NOTES

A New Orleans Democratic journal says it accepts the amendments to the National Constitution so long as there is no chance of their being repealed.

George W. Julian was among the pilgrims to Cincinnati. The cause of his pilgrimage was that he was not permitted to continue the distribution of patronage in his district in Indiana.

Already Greeley says he will withdraw if the Democrats nominate a straight ticket. He thus confesses that he relies on Democratic voters. That the Democrats will nominate a straight ticket we consider certain. And then the party will be led off to another expensive funeral.

In the New York Tribune of the 26th April we find this statement: "For more than a year to be an avowed friend of Fenton was to be marked for proscription at the White House. We propose to endure this for one term only." And so Mr Greeley's quarrel with Grant is all about the distribution of patronage.

General Spinner is among those prominent Republicans who believe Grant will get a great many Democratic votes this year. He says that when the Democratic party goes to pieces and has to choose between two Republicans Grant will get a large share of them. Spinner writes a poor hand—but his head is level here.

A Washington dispatch of the 20th April gives this: "The departures from this city to the Cincinnati Convention begin to-night. Quite a number of newspaper men with a few Democratic Representatives leading the delegation. Nearly every one of the sixteen Maryland delegates to Cincinnati elected yesterday is an ex officio holder, either State or Federal. Gentlemen just from Mississippi report that the movement in that state is entirely in the hands of the supporters of Judge Dent in the campaign of 1868, and that to day it could not command 100 votes."

The Liberal movement is not overwhelming in Iowa. In choosing delegates to the recent Republican State Convention, of the ninety eight counties eighty nine had instructed for Grant, and every one of them had indorsed his administration. In the State Convention there were in attendance only five anti-Grant men, and the instructions to the delegates to Philadelphia to vote and work for Grant were not opposed by a single vote! Of the 135 Republican papers in the State not one has indorsed the Cincinnati project.

The Daily Oregonian.

THURSDAY MORNING, MAY 9 1872

CITY.

A WRONG IMPRESSION.—We are informed that the public received a wrong impression concerning the late tragedy at Oregon City in which Henry C. Barringer lost his life. It was stated by some at the time to have been a great outrage upon justice, and the action of Justice Burns before whom Gordon who did the killing had his examination was said to have been a matter of surprise to many. A gentleman from Oregon City who is conversant with the circumstances of the case, informs us that the facts elicited upon the preliminary examination showed that Gordon only acted in self defence; that the deceased who was known to be a somewhat desperate character had made threats to kill Gordon during the night and next morning at 4 o'clock with two or three companions all armed went to Gordon's house evidently with the intention of carrying out the threat, and that no alternative was left but that Mr. Gordon should either lose his own life or take that of his adversary.

A SINGULAR GROWTH.—We were shown yesterday, at the East Portland Dispensary a very singular and eccentric piece of an ash root. The root was found over somewhere on Columbia Slough. It will weigh about forty pounds and is one of the most strange growths of wood we have ever seen. At the first glance, one would suppose that it is a solid piece but on a closer inspection, it appears to be a combination of many roots distorted into the most grotesque forms imaginable, and grown fast together. In a piece of wood of the same size, it would be difficult to find how a greater number of angles [illegible] protuberances, crooks and turns could be [illegible]. The grain of the wood can be traced in its convolutions round and round, under and over. The piece of wood was but slightly decayed and resembled more than anything else we can think of, a mass of petrified intestines. It is worthy a place on the shelf of any collection of natural curiosities.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The East Portland Lodge of Good Templars will give an entertainment at the Odd Fellows' Hall on Monday evening, 13th inst. Exercises will commence at 8 o'clock. The following is the programme:

Music—Sparkling Water
[illegible] by Mr Leland—The Oregon City
[illegible]
[illegible] Don't Marry a Man if he Drinks [illegible] in three acts
Music—The Old Musician and his Harp
[illegible] in Three Scenes—The Drunkard's [illegible]
Music—Leaf by Leaf.
Tableau and Song—Don't Go Out To Night [illegible]
Drama—Thirty Minutes for Refreshments
Music—Pulling Hard Against the Stream

BIBLE SOCIETY.—The Oregon State Bible Society, auxiliary to the American Bible Society of New York, held its annual meeting at the First Congregational Church last evening. Rev G W. Izer preached a very eloquent discourse from the text "Ye do err, not knowing the Scriptures." The church was crowded to its capacity with an intelligent and appreciative audience. At the election the following officers were chosen to serve for the ensuing year: President, Rev E Walker; Vice President, Rev I Dillon; Secretary, D. W. Williams; Depository Messrs Gill & Co; Executive Committee—Rev George H Atkinson, E J. Northrup, R Weeks, J D Holman, L H. Parrish, G Shindler and Wm P [illegible].

AN HEIRLOOM.—We were yesterday shown an old and curious timepiece by a resident of this city. The watch, for such it is, is composed of three separate sets of works. The outer one comprises the balance wheel and regulator, the inner the intricate machinery of the watch and the other a set of wheels to strike the time. The watch is also supplied with a stop and [illegible] the hours and quarters. The dial is open in the center showing the method of striking the time. The watch was made at Paris and has been in the family of the present owner for several generations. It is an excellent time-keeper and is held far above any value.

PLACED ON THE ROUTE.—The steamship John L. Stephens will sail from San Francisco for this port in a few days. The present intention is to place her on the Portland and San Francisco line this season. She has been thoroughly overhauled and examined by the Government officials. If this plan be carried into effect there will be three vessels on the line, as the Stephens will be run in connection with the Oriflamme and Ajax. A steamer will sail from this port every [illegible] day. By this arrangement there will be a [illegible] increase of accommodations to both passengers and freight.

[illegible].—A gang of Chinamen came over the river yesterday evening. There were thirty [illegible] in all. A friend at our elbow suggests that the Democrats in these latitudes ought to attempt a reconciliation with these denizens of the Flowery Kingdom, now that Grover has buried the subject of the heathen Asiatic, and induct them into the mysteries of the Democratic brotherhood. From certain little events which have occurred recently we are constrained to believe that Democracy will need some affiliation of this kind to prop its weak back, and strengthen its trembling knees by the first of next month.

BURGLARS AGAIN.—After a brief respite from their labors the burglars about this devoted city have recommenced their labors of love. On Tuesday night some persons entered the residence of Mr. Langley, who resides on Ninth street between [illegible] and Washington. A modest little shriek from a lady who was awakened by the noise, gave token that the latitude might soon prove warm for the robbers, and they took French leave and at the same time a pair of trowsers. The timely [illegible] no doubt saved two valuable gold watches and a considerable sum of money which were in the house.

THAT TUNNEL.—We regret to announce that that tunnel near the foot of G street has been at last completed—that is the excavating portion of the work. We are sorry, from the fact that we can make no more paragraphs about the "progress of the work" and the Herald's "young man" will cease to fret in spirit thereat. It has [illegible] so many items that we hate to abandon it.

[illegible] SHIPMENT.—Messrs E S Morgan & Co., of Roseburg, recently purchased a stock of goods in San Francisco, with orders to ship them via this city and the Oregon and California Railroad. The freight is expected to arrive here on the [illegible] Idaho. They will be forwarded with [illegible]. This will be the pioneer shipment to [illegible].

[illegible].—Everything is serene on the docks. There have been no arrivals or departures of vessels lately, which accounts for this rather unusual state of affairs. The bark Almatia is the only vessel discharging cargo. There are now in port [illegible] Geo S. Wright, schooner Augusta, barks [illegible] and Almatia, and ship Windward.

[illegible] SPLICED.—A piece of wire cable was [illegible] over yesterday from East Portland. It will be used to splice this end of the cable at the [illegible] street ferry. The end will be fastened near [illegible]. The cable will have to be length[illegible] in order to allow the ferry to land higher up [illegible] street, as the water continues to rise.

[illegible] LIST.—The delinquent tax roll of the city is now in the hands of the Chief of Police [illegible], and the delinquent list for the [illegible] is in the hands of the Sheriff, who proposes to advertise in a day or so, and then take the [illegible] steps to collect the same.

AT HALF MAST.—The national colors were displayed at half mast yesterday on the Windward, the [illegible] and Falkinburg out of respect to the first mate, J J Arnold, who died on Tuesday last from the effects of injuries received on board the Windward.

FOR OLYMPIA.—Rev Dr Lindsley left for Olympia, Washington Territory on Monday [illegible] Rev. Drs Geary and Nesbitt, the [illegible] of Albany and the latter of Corvallis, are in the city en route to Olympia, Washington [illegible].

[illegible].—The services announced on Sunday [illegible] take place to morrow, it being Ascension Day, will be omitted in the Chapel. There will [illegible] service at Trinity at 11 o'clock, with [illegible] Communion.

[illegible].—St John's Precinct has elected [illegible] C. B Comstock as delegate to attend the [illegible] Convention which will meet in this city on [illegible].

WALLAMET BRIDGE

The following paper was read by Col Chapman before the Common Council of this city at a meeting of that body last evening:

To the Hon the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Portland: The Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad Company submit for your approval maps of the place of the bridge across the Willamette river at Portland.

Unavoidable delay has occurred in presenting the plans occasioned mainly in prosecuting the enterprise of the Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad of which the bridge is a part.

As will be seen the plan only embraces the bridge across the Willamette river from abutment to abutment.

Not having secured a location when the plan was made, Madison street was taken as a given point and the length of bridge and hight of piers adjusted to the width and depth of the river at that locality.

The plan shows the draw to be of the full width of the bridge embracing three heavy trusses and therefore very ponderous and unwieldy. But in bridges of this character as in case of the new long bridge at Washington constructed by the Keystone Bridge Company, the width of the roadway of the draw is contracted to 13 feet in the clear and carrying both railroad and roadway, travel on two trusses with partition fence or screen between the railroad and roadway and so contracting the dimensions of the pivot pier.

The abutments are to be of stone.

From the scale the hight and dimensions of piers are easily ascertained.

The pivot and rest piers are designed to be of stone. They will be founded upon piles and timber grillages or timber crib well banded together forming bins or cells to be filled with stone; otherwise they will be timber cribs with suitable foundation of piles or timber grillages. The cribs to be well banded together, forming bins or cells to be filled with stone sufficiently high to resist the force of water and the shocks of timber or ice.

The other piers extending over the sand bar from the Draw to the East Portland shore are to be timber piers founded upon cribs well banded together forming bins or cells, to be filled with stone. On the top of these cribs will be bolted the sills of the timbered piers which are securely fastened to the cribs by long bolts passing up through the crib walls. These cribs may be more thoroughly secured by means of piles. The plan of these piers appears on one of the accompanying maps. If, however in the progress of the work under the eye of a skillful Engineer, it be deemed advisable, timber piers will be omitted, and the crib piers carried to the full hight. In all cases where practicable, the cribs are to be secured in their position by piles.

The map of the Fender to the Draw explains itself. It is to be timber cribs with bins or cells to be filled with stone and secured in its position by piles.

A superstructure for the railroad or roadway can only be available in this instance where the street is sufficiently elevated to allow one or the other below and between the street and high water. This is not the case either at Main, Madison or Jefferson. I have selected Madison (and Asylum street in East Portland) to fill the requirements of the ordinance and agreement, hoping that the Council will allow an opportunity to secure a permanent location. Should a location be secured where the streets are more elevated so that the railroad may rest upon the superstructure the plan of the bridge will be contracted in width to 14 feet for the roadway, and sustained by only two trusses instead of three, and the piers reduced accordingly.

The size of timbers, iron, etc, are marked on the maps, from which can be readily determined the strength and capacity of the bridge. I am informed by competent judges that it is ample for the heaviest railroad and roadway travel and will be secure if railroad and roadway and side walk are used simultaneously.

The bridge is estimated to carry 3,000 pounds to the lineal foot on the railroad side and 1 500 pounds per lineal foot on the roadway side.

The chords of the pivot bridge will be as follows:

Railroad side truss 2 pcs 6x14, upper 2 pcs 7x14, lower

Center truss, 2 pcs 8x14, upper, 2 pcs 9x14 lower

Railway truss, 2 pcs 6x14, upper, 2 pcs 6x14 lower

The braces and rods to be proportioned to sustain the bridge when swung open, and the traveling load when closed.

The pivot bridge will be rotated on the patent anti friction cones, and turntable as show on the accompanying lithographic plan—the same now in use on the new long bridge at Washington.

While it is but reasonable to suppose that the railroad company constructing this bridge will have most interest in constructing it properly, they are willing that the Council may suggest any reasonable modifications.

W. W CHAPMAN, President.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE.—We call special attention to the sale of a splendid lot of household furniture by A. B. Richardson, at the corner of Second and A streets, this morning.

CHANGED HIS BASE.—HENRY MARTIN, the Grocer so long established in the Odd Fellows Building, Alder St, has transferred his stock to 131 First street, where he has added new goods and will be happy to greet his old patrons and the general public. Martin is one of those men who knows how to make friends and keep them.

HOUSEKEEPERS ATTENTION.—Monnastes No 120 First street received per last steamer a large invoice of Crockery, Glassware, and other articles in his particular line and proposes to sell the same to the public at prices that must satisfy everybody. To be convinced just call on him, examine his stock and buy for yourself. Certainly he offers goods at lowest rates and of the best quality.

THE UMATILLA HOUSE at The Dalles is now completed and furnished in every respect unsurpassed. The office is the most cheerful and pleasant in the State and the dining hall is unequaled. The rooms are all newly furnished. The house has twelve suits of rooms with stoves in them for families. The new house stands much higher than the old one. The ceilings are four feet higher which adds greatly to the cheerfulness of the rooms. The table is kept in a style to correspond fully with the appointments.

The Children.

I suppose if all the ch[illegible]dren
Who have lived [illegible]
Were collected and inspected
They would make a won[illegible] b[illegible]ng
Oh the babble of the Babel
Oh the flutter of the fuss
To begin with Cain and Abel
And to finish up with us

Think of all the [illegible]
Who are now and [illegible]
Every nation since [illegible]
That [illegible]
And [illegible]
But [illegible]
And of [illegible] how many
Never have grown up [illegible]

Some have never [illegible]
Never used the [illegible]
Some have even [illegible]
Ere they know [illegible]
And indeed I [illegible]
If we reckon [illegible]
And bring such [illegible]
There is room for them on earth

Who shall wash their smiling faces
Wh[illegible]
Who will dress them Wh[illegible] them
Who will [illegible] their little [illegible]
Where are [illegible] enough to hold them
Hands [illegible] each [illegible] head
Who will praise them who will [illegible] them
Who will pack them off to bed

Little happy Christian children
Little savage children too
In all stages of all ages
That our planet ever knew
Little princes and princesses
Little beggars wan and [illegible]
Some in very handsome dresses
Naked some, bedaubed with paint

Only think of the confusion
Such a motley crowd would make
And the clatter of their chatter
And the things that they would break
Oh the babble of the Babel
Oh the flutter of the fuss
To begin with Cain and Abel
And to finish off with us.

The Executive Appointments

[From the Boston Advertiser

The truth is that we have had no other President since Washington who has acted so loyally on the principle of appointing men to important offices without asking what were their particular party claims Hence half the difficulties of his position Mr Sumner's first great grief was that the new Cabinet was made without consultation with party leaders,—nay, that it was made without special reference to party services Mr Fish, for instance, had not been recognized as Mr Sumner or Mr Wilson had been as leaders of the Republican party,—and the same might be said of many other members of the Cabinet. In the Geneva appointments, the President has acted by the same rule

The country, as we have said, understands this perfectly well—that here is a President who is attempting to disregard the vicious rule of Democratic supremacy, that offices are spoils, and "that the spoils belong to the victors." The country, as we believe, understands equally well the manifest dislike of the politicians by profession to an attempt so bold.

The highest tribute which has ever been paid to the merits of Richelieu has been that he was more a statesman than a cardinal that he loved France more than he loved the profession to which he was trained When her interests required it, he lent her arms to the Protestant enemies of Austria and if need were he could appoint a Protestant to high official station General Grant's biographers will have a right to make the same claim for him There is no lack of public men working with the Republican party who could have been sent to Geneva, who would have been proud to be entrusted with the duties assigned to Adams, Cushing and Evarts, who would have done honor to the country and to themselves in such a position. Johnson, Buchanan, Pierce or Polk would have appointed men within the circle of confidential partisan allegiance General Grant has broken with all the later traditions, has disappointed who shall say how many partisan office-seekers, and has acted for the best interests of the country He has again and again and again appointed public servants who were wholly unknown to party, because they could serve the country and mankind

Will Not Support Greeley

The Herald holds itself in readiness to support Greeley. Not so with the Salem Mercury. That paper says:

To those Democrats who are looking to [illegible] Greeley, for their next Presidential candidate we commend these words, uttered by him in the Tribune but a short time before his nomination at Cincinnati:

"If the contest be between a Democrat and two Radicals, I would support that Radical which gave the g[illegible] promise of success, no matter how able and incorruptible the Democrat, or how weak and purchasable the Radical—even though it be Grant him[illegible]."

Yet Greeley is a fiery denouncer of Grant, and affects to believe that if he is elected "he will attemp to carry the country by cannon and bayonets for imperialism four years longer." And perhaps in the next breath he will declare that he would support this man in preference to any Democrat "no matter how able and incorruptible he may be" Let Democrats not be too hasty in this matter, but act wisely. We believe there will be a Democrat in the field. The simple idea that three millions of Democratic voters—a majority of the white men of the Union—are going to abandon their organization, their principles and their honor, and accept the leadership of Greeley—the arch enemy of our principles—would be funny were it not so ridiculous and absurd.

If there is not enough of virtue in our three millions of Democratic brethren to nominate and elect a President, in the face of such a disorganized mob of plunderers and thieves as compose the Radical party, then, we say, may God help our country.

The Manufacture of Bank Notes —The Bank of England has always claimed a superiority over all other institutions of the kind in the world, in the mechanical characteristics of its notes—the quality of its paper, the execution of its plate printing type printing, etc.

The paper used for this purpose is of a peculiar white color, such as is neither sold in the shops nor used for any other purpose whatever, its thinness and transparency prevent any of the printed part of the note being washed out by turpentine, or removed by the knife, unless a hole is made in the place thus practiced on; and there is a peculiar crispness and toughness in the paper which enables those who are accustomed to handling it to distinguish instantaneously, by the sense of touch alone, true from false paper.

Wire marks or water marks are produced in the paper when in a state of pulp, and consequently a forger must procure a mould and make his own paper. But both the workmanship of the mould and the manufacture of the paper, from the intricate surface, require the greatest skill

Another peculiarity is the three deckle edges of the note. The mould contains two notes, placed lengthways, these being separated by the knife in a future state of manufacture The deckle, or wooden frame of the paper mould, produces that peculiar effect which is seen on the edges of uncut paper As it is con[illegible] when the substance is in a state of pulp, imitation is extremely difficult The strength of this paper is also very great, thus, in its water leaf, or unsized condition a note will support thirty-six pounds, and when one grain of size has been diffused through it, it will then lift a hundred weight

The Big Trees of Australia —Recent explorations show that the great Australian trees exceed in height, though not in circumference, the giants of California, though some of the Australian must be regarded as large in girth, the hollow trunk of one of them being large enough to admit three horsemen to enter and turn without dismounting while they led a fourth horse. A fallen tree in Victoria, measured, was found to be four hundred and twenty feet long, another four hundred and eighty feet The highest trees on the Sierra Nevada yet discovered reach four hundred and fifty feet, the average being from three hundred to four hundred feet in height, and from twenty-five to thirty-four feet in diameter. The wood of these trees closely resembles red cedar, and the reddish brown bark is sometimes eighteen inches thick The age of some of the oldest is computed at two thousand years.

The average profit of the New England manufactories has been for 51 years about 9 per cent.

HUMOROUS

Such Lying

Some worthless fellow who is too lazy to work and who doubtless spends his time lounging on the street corners and gets his living from free lunches writes in this doleful way from this city to the Sacramento [illegible]

It is in your power to keep people away from Oregon and Washington Territory do it for more misery and suffering never existed in any country than does here among strangers Every town is crowded full of men who come to get work on the railroad and cannot get it Yet the contractors and owners are using every inducement to keep wages down They have to work at any price when they get it

The cold weather and heavy frost for the past few days gave the fruit trees, vegetables, etc fits, and crops of all kinds will be fearfully short here this year

To day there is a large auction sale of furniture, bedding, etc, belonging to families who are selling out to leave the country Many boarding houses are closing plenty of people here but no money I meet them every hour that say in a laughing way, I have not had a square meal for two days yet I have offered to work a whole day for one Very few come here but leave as soon as they can Many send to their friends elsewhere for money to get away with

There is nothing doing in real estate, yet there are twenty six agencies The merchants are all complaining, and say the railroad has ruined trade

The State Prison and Lunatic Asylum are receiving new inmates every day, unless some serious mishap they will soon exceed California

A large number of the woolen manufacturers of New England representing the largest establishments in those States have addressed a petition to Congress, requesting that the tariff on Wool and Woolens shall not be changed They say that this tariff is satisfactory to all Wool growers, and to a large majority of the manufacturers " that it is 'promoting the growth of Wool in all parts of the country, and particularly in the West thereby insuring constant supply and uniform prices This petition is an effective answer to a petition not long ago addressed to Congress by a few manufacturers asking for free trade in Wool and Woolens

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED BY THE STATE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION AT PORTLAND MARCH 20 1872.

The Union Republican party of Oregon in Convention makes this declaration of its principles and policies

1 To the Constitution of the United States and all its amendments we pledge our unfaltering allegiance [illegible] authority a willing obedience to its full and legal construction and enforcement our constant support.

2 That the success of the present National Administration in reducing the public debt diminishing and equalizing taxation administering every branch of public affairs with economy and efficiency [illegible] improving the civil service enforcing the laws without fear or favor protecting the nation's wards with paternal care against the cruel avarice of speculation and fraud and maintaining friendly relations with Foreign Powers has been such as to command the approbation of the great majority of the American people and justly entitle it to the confidence and commendation of every true Republican

3 We regard the payment of our national debt in full compliance with all legal obligations all contracted [illegible] every where and in accordance with the true letter and spirit of [illegible] [illegible] question [illegible] but that we may [illegible] early and [illegible] we denounce all forms and degrees of repudiation of that debt as affirmed by the Democratic party and [illegible] sympathizers as not only [illegible] but [illegible] and we will [illegible] [illegible]

4 We admit of no distinction between native and [illegible] citizens [illegible] we favor the granting of [illegible] to the [illegible] the States lately [illegible] and we [illegible] full and effective protection of our civil laws to all persons voluntarily [illegible] under [illegible] land

5 We favor [illegible] United States [illegible] [illegible] only in quantities [illegible]

6 That while we are [illegible] of [illegible] revenue for the support [illegible] [illegible] adjusting [illegible] duties [illegible] the whole country [illegible] and that policy of national exchange which secures the working [illegible] wages [illegible] remunerative prices [illegible] mechanics and [illegible] their skill [illegible] [illegible] the Nation's commerce [illegible] independence

7 We believe that popular education is the [illegible] basis of a free government [illegible] funds or lands in this State for any other than their legitimate purpose and we [illegible] the last Legislature [illegible] two hundred thousand dollars taken from the school fund [illegible] corporation consisting mainly of Democratic leaders and party favorites for the construction of a work which [illegible] and [illegible] for seventy [illegible] thousand dollars [illegible] and that we [illegible] in favor of the passage by the Legislature of an efficient [illegible] law as [illegible] secure [illegible] citizen of our State a good common school education

8 We [illegible] terms sufficiently strong [illegible] disapproval of the acts of the last Legislature whereby the swamp lands [illegible] this State have been taken from the bona fide settlers and given without limit or proper competition in price to the land grabber and speculator wholly the [illegible] salaries of State officers have been [illegible] increased and the taxes increased thousands [illegible] [illegible] the creation of new and unnecessary offices and salaries for the purpose of providing [illegible] party [illegible] the citizens [illegible] right of [illegible] [illegible] And we [illegible] [illegible] State offices [illegible] laws as extravagant reckless illegal and [illegible] and we rightfully charge all these [illegible] the [illegible] of the Democratic party

9 We are in favor of the United States giving [illegible] [illegible] to the [illegible] [illegible] United States [illegible] warrant [illegible]

10 That we demand the repeal [illegible] [illegible] act which was devised to support [illegible] [illegible] newspapers at the public expense

11 That the Republican party of this State [illegible] favor [illegible] General Government extending aid toward building a road from [illegible] to [illegible] Salt Lake City [illegible] Jackson county to Humboldt [illegible] hereby pledge our party representatives to the support of the same

12 That the indiscriminate licensing of persons to sell spirituous liquors without [illegible] placed under proper responsibilities for the [illegible] having been found by experience to promote [illegible] crime and pauperism and thereby [illegible] increase the rate of taxation the Republican party [illegible] duty of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] liberty [illegible] law [illegible] [illegible]

13 That the Republican party [illegible] of [illegible] assistance from the General Government for the construction of a wagon road from the [illegible] [illegible] the Dalles [illegible] [illegible] and necessary improvement [illegible] State

14 We affirm the [illegible] [illegible] power of the Republican party is the only sure preservation of national peace and prosperity and for reasons thereof we point to its brilliant record in the late civil war to a complete nationality to a united sisterhood of thirty seven States to our Territories rapidly warming into State life; to a nation freed from the taint of human slavery to an elevated and enlarged citizenship to our national standing at home and abroad to the work of vigorous reform in all discovered abuses of authority or trust to an unequaled foreign credit to a successful and a [illegible] financial system and to the unparalleled peace and prosperity everywhere in our broad domain and these are our pledges for the future

15 We hail the New Departure of the late Democratic party, taken by the action of their conventions in seven States as an affirmation of the principles for which the Republican party has contended for the last ten years and so [illegible] Pass-ive Policy [illegible] that party already assumed [illegible] [illegible] the States we recognize an acknowledgment [illegible] the coming Presidential campaign
